Boston Gunman Is Nabbed In Brink's Holdup

FBI Contends Thug One Of Masked Men In $1,219,000 Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—Joseph J. "Specs" O'Keefe, 44-year-old Boston gunman has been nabbed by the FBI as one of the masked men who robbed the Brink's Boston headquarters of $1,219,000 on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe was named in affidavits filed by the FBI with the federal court in Boston.

The affidavits were revealed late Thursday as O'Keefe fought a contempt of court charge resulting from his refusal to answer pertinent questions before a grand jury hearing evidence in the fabulous stickup.

One of the affidavits, signed by John B. Greene, a special agent of the FBI who heads the Brink's investigation, says that he "has reason to believe that Joseph J. O'Keefe was one of the participants in the robbery."

A second affidavit says that $60,000 in Brink's loot was hidden in a house occupied by O'Keefe's sister, Mrs. Mary A. Hooley, 37.

A third affidavit sets forth that on July 19, 1950, the $60,000 was transferred to the home of a Mary O'Keefe, identified as Joseph O'Keefe's wife.

A fourth affidavit tells of an alleged telephone conversation between O'Keefe, then serving 90 days in a Pennsylvania jail, for carrying weapons in his car, and Mary O'Keefe.

Greene says in the paper: "He (O'Keefe) asked his wife whether or not she had been interviewed by federal enforcement officials and she said she had."

"He asked whether or not anything was found, and she answered: 'No,' and later he told her: 'Just take good care of the baby. You know what I mean.'"

Federal authorities said there is no O'Keefe baby.

One of the affidavits asserts that the $60,000 of alleged Brink's loot was hidden in an "overstuffed baby stationery chair and footstool or in a leather zippered overnight bag" in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hooley, O'Keefe's sister and brother-in-law.

Mrs. Hooley earlier this week was given a one-year sentence for contempt of court after she refused to answer before the grand jury the question:

"DID YOU ever at any time see $70,000 in cash?"

Her husband also is charged with contempt of court for refusing to talk before the grand jury.

O'Keefe's contempt of court case has not yet been completed and Hooley's contempt case has been continued to next Monday. Hooley and his wife, who appealed the sentence, are free on bail.

Murder, Inc. Boss Due To Give Testimony

NEW YORK (AP)—Albert Anastasia, reputed boss executioner of the old Murder, Inc., mob, was to testify today before the New York State Crime Commission.

The name of Anastasia, often mentioned as a power on the Brooklyn waterfront, has cropped up throughout the hearings sifting evidence of gangster rule along the miles of Port of New York docks.

Thursday's testimony linked Anastasia with the unsolved 1939 murder of a reform-minded longshoreman. Other witnesses revealed how mobsters controlled the waterfront and even dictated to the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

Also figuring prominently in the testimony was the name of William O'Dwyer, recently resigned U. S. ambassador to Mexico and former mayor of New York City.

One witness was Edward A. Heffernan, assistant city corporation counsel who was an aide to O'Dwyer when the latter was district attorney in Brooklyn.

Heffernan said he made a six-week study of the Brooklyn waterfront in 1940 which disclosed that gangsters ran the ILA locals there and pocketed union funds.

Heffernan testified that O'Dwyer told him to "close the case."

Asked whether any hoodlum mentioned in his report ever was prosecuted by O'Dwyer's office, Heffernan replied:

"I don't think so."

U. S. Christmas Business Above Par; Even $50 Neckties Now In Demand

NEW YORK (AP)—Christmas business is so good, says a Charlotte, N. C., merchant, that he even has a brisk demand for $50 neckties. They are made of velvet, woven with pure gold.

Denver's three biggest department stores agree that Yule business is "substantially heavier" than last year and will set new records.

In Chicago, President Joel Goldblatt of Goldblatt Inc., says: "We're running 10 per cent ahead right now. If it keeps up it will be the biggest Christmas business in our history."

These enthusiastic comments are typical of others obtained in an Associated Press survey of Christmas shopping trends in 24 cities.

From coast to coast it's pretty much the same story: stores bulging with shoppers, downtown parking lots jammed, holiday buyers spending more money.

The one big exception is New York. John Raasch, president of Wanamaker's New York store, reports sales running behind last year "and I doubt if we'll pick up what we've lost."

He blames transportation difficulties, competition of convenient suburban shopping centers and, most of all, the city sales tax of three cents on the dollar.

All Wanamaker stores outside New York expect to better last year's volume.

Two universal complaints in the country at large are lack of parking facilities for shoppers and a shortage of trained sales help.

Merchants blame a late Thanksgiving for the traffic crush. They say people are trying to cram all of their buying into a shorter time.

In Kansas City the downtown shopping district is so jammed with cars that operators of outlying parking lots are supplying "shuttle-bus" service for their patrons. Philadelphia has banned all parking of passenger cars in the central city area.

Gripes about the help situation are long and loud. A Los Angeles retailer complains: "It's murder."

Macy's New York licked the help problem by interviewing 27,000 applicants for part-time Christmas work. Six thousand were hired. Included were nine Santa Clauses, two more than last year. The big store is experimenting with a self-service toy department.

Most retailers agree that the shortage of help stems from current full employment and general prosperity, the same influences that are bringing record crowds of shoppers into the stores.

A merchant in Richmond, Va., theorizes that part-time help is hard to get because people have more money in Christmas clubs and don't need the extra work.

Changed buying habits here and there are attributed to the imminent change in the national administration.

Washington department stores say they are having a tough time selling furniture and rugs. They think it's because government jobholders are uncertain about their future.

The Republican victory is credited elsewhere with loosening the purse strings of higher-income shoppers. Indisputably there has been a big gain in Christmas sales in the plushier type of store commonly associated with such famous name streets as Fifth Avenue in New York.

WHAT'S MORE, Rule 22 provides that no debate limitation whatever shall apply to proposals to change the rules, so that any move to change it can be talked to death.

Tentative opening-day strategy outlined by Humphrey to cope with this roadblock to civil rights and other legislation involves some fast parliamentary footwork.

Here's what Humphrey expects would happen if the plan were put into execution:

At the outset of the session a motion would be made to adopt new Senate rules; the vice president, who is Senate presiding officer, probably would rule that the motion was out of order.

An appeal would be taken from the ruling of the vice president; only a majority vote is necessary to overturn such a ruling.

If the vice president were overruled, the effect would be to leave the Senate without any rules. In that case ordinary parliamentary rules would apply and any senator attempting to filibuster against the adoption of new rules no longer would have the protection of Rule 22.

Any Comment From His Wife?

CINCINNATI (AP)—William Welsh, 25, drove his automobile onto railroad tracks here Thursday, parked it and calmly walked away as a train smashed into the vehicle.

Patrolman Charles Denham said Welsh's only comment was, "now I don't have to drive my wife to work." Welsh was cited for ignoring a flashing red light.

Pilot Who Landed Here in Dark Faces Reckless Operation Charge

William Thompson, who admittedly knocked the top of the chimney off a house and tore down some high tension wires before landing his light plane at night without benefit of lights or radar near the Armo plant here Wednesday, is to face a charge of reckless operation of an airplane when he appears again in municipal court here Dec. 26.

The charge reckless airplane operation was filed by a ground-bound state highway patrolman, R. R. Shelton.

Thompson appeared in municipal court Friday morning with his attorney, Winston W. Hill and his case was continued until Dec. 26 by Judge Robert Brubaker.

He was released from jail, where he had been since he was picked up about two hours after the end of his aerial escapade on $500 bond Thursday about 9 P. M. Regardless of what they think of his capers, there was little doubt among the hundreds who gathered in the darkness after his unceremonious landing that Thompson must be a very fine pilot. They are saying that to land the plane in the darkness on an unfamiliar field without so much as damaging it after smashing the top off the chimney of Mrs. Mary Minton's house on the Chillicothe pike and ripping through high tension electric wires would take an unusually good pilot, even if he had a lot of good luck.

A sizeable section of the southern part of the city and many homes south of it were thrown into darkness Wednesday night until crews from the DP&L could make repairs.

Thompson said he had rented the plane at the Sabina Airport and flown to Cincinnati. When he returned Wednesday evening, he admitted that he "overshot" the Sabina air field and made his spectacular landing at the edge of Washington C. H.

Before he landed, police said they received many calls from excited residents of the city who heard the plane. They said they thought some pilot had lost his way and was hunting a landing strip—they were right, too.

Thompson, World War II pilot and aerial photographer, was given a blood test to determine whether or not he was intoxicated but results have not been received yet from the laboratory in Columbus, police said.

Police said that Thompson had previously been arrested here on a charge of driving while intoxicated, another charge of being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated, and for interfering with an officer.

Lower prices are luring shoppers into Indianapolis stores, with demand holding up for all classes of merchandise except TV.

Southern retailers say increased employment in textile mills and easier installment credit will boost holiday sales to all-time peaks.

Charlotte, N. C., is one of the few cities reporting a boom in household appliances and TV sets. Apparel for "formal" wear has shown a marked rise, Charlotte merchants also are doing brisk business in soft goods.

Atlanta reports a slight trend away from TV sets and toward soft goods and luxury items. In Richmond, Va., Alfred Thompson, manager of Miller & Rhoads, predicts: "We're going to set a new record for volume, dollar and merchandise, this Christmas."

Talbot was active as an advisor and fund-raiser during Eisenhower's presidential campaign. The others selected today had not figured in the campaign limelight on a national scale.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, announced the appointments. He said Anderson is a Democrat. The other three men are Republicans.

Anderson is the third Democrat chosen by Eisenhower for a key position in his administration.

The others are Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Houston, Tex., editor and publisher, who will be federal security administrator; and Martin P. Durkin, of Chicago and Washington, AFL Plumbing Union president, chosen secretary of labor.

He said they were decided upon after a series of conferences between Eisenhower and Wilson aboard the cruiser Helena while they were returning from Korea.

The new appointments were announced as Eisenhower faced a politically explosive decision in coping with inflation.

THE DECISION confronting him is whether to ask the new Republican-ruled Congress to extend controls authority, scheduled to expire April 30, or let the program die and try to restrain inflation by other methods.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the prospective speaker of the House, said after a conference with Eisenhower Thursday that the President-elect is considering whether to go before Congress and set forth his legislative program after he takes office Jan. 10.

SITTING IN with Eisenhower and Martin were Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, in line to be majority floor leader, and Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, who probably will be assistant leader.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate GOP leaders will get together with Eisenhower soon for a similar conference on the legislative program being drafted by the new administration.

After the House group's meeting with the general, Halleck said the Truman administration "has just about destroyed the whole program of stabilizing."

Agreeing, Martin said the outgoing Democratic regime has the program "on the ground gasping for breath."

The situation was underscored, Halleck said, by Truman's approval of the $1.90 wage increase for coal miners. That action brought on the protest resignation of industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Martin said he and his House colleagues discussed in a general way with Eisenhower what to do about wage-price controls, but reached no decision.

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower today announced the selections of four civilians who will head the armed services under Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense designate. They are:

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now, seven years after he first mentioned it, President Truman's compulsory health insurance plan is hardly more than a gleam in the eye of the man who steps out of the White House next month. He lost his fight for it.

But on the eve of his departure he has left a brand new plan, not his own, for incoming President Eisenhower. This plan was unveiled yesterday by the President's Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation. Truman urged the Eisenhower administration to take quick action on these new proposals.

But it is a pretty safe bet that whatever is done, if anything, won't be speedy. For one thing, the Republicans in their campaign platform of 1952 were very guarded about any promises for a health program. The platform they worked out at the Chicago convention said:

"We are opposed to federal compulsory health insurance with its crushing cost, wasteful inefficiency, bureaucratic deadweight, and debased standards of medical care. We pledge our continuous encouragement of improved methods of assuring health protection."

And, no matter what Eisenhower himself may think, he is dealing with a conservative Congress which is bound to go slow on any social changes. And that isn't because the Republicans control it. Every Congress since the war, whether Democrats or Republicans ran it, has been conservative.

Truman offered his compulsory health insurance plan to Congress in a special message Nov. 19, 1945. It never got to first base although since then Congress has voted money for medical services in several ways. Truman said of his plan: "This is not socialized medicine." But socialized medicine is what its critics have called the plan ever since.

The plan Truman had in mind would have been financed out of payroll deductions similar to those now made for social security. The AMA, which put on a huge campaign to prevent Truman's proposal from becoming law, disliked the thought of government say-so over doctors and seemed to think voluntary systems would meet the nation's health needs. Truman didn't look upon this idea as a solution at all.

The plan recommended yesterday by the President's commission would fall somewhere between the Truman and AMA ways of thinking. Whether the AMA will fight the commission's recommendations too remains to be seen. A spokesman said there'd be no AMA comment on the full report until it had a chance to study it. In brief that plan would provide free or partly-paid health insurance policies for everyone who

Pvt. Dana Kellenberger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kellenberger of the Good Hope Road, is now on a 30-day furlough with a buddy and is touring France, Germany, Holland, Denmark, England and Switzerland. couldn't afford to buy one. To foot this bill the government would have to hand out about one billion dollars a year, with about three-quarters of it to be matched by the states, dollar for dollar.

The unmatched quarter of the government's money — all of it would come out of general tax funds—would go for building hospitals, expanding medical schools and helping research.

Features at the Theaters

A suspense drama is on the bill for the Fayette Theater Sunday and Monday with Linda Darnell, Gary Merrill and Hildegarde Neff have the starring roles in "Night Without Sleep."

The story is about an alcoholic composer who wakes up from a muddled sleep, the result of a drunken binge, with a grating hang-over and the half-remembered sense of having committed the murder his psychiatrist warned him he might do.

Laughter and romance south of the border peppers the sprightly new comedy, "One Big Affair," which is slated for Tuesday and Wednesday with Evelyn Keyes and Dennis O'Keefe taking the starring roles.

The picture tells about a touring school teacher and a lawyer who don't discover romance until the end of a riotous Mexican journey when, despite all their troubles, they decide to marry.

One of the most thrilling sea adventures ever brought to the screen, the perilous voyage of the Mayflower in 1620 from Plymouth, England, to the New World, is unfolded in "Plymouth Adventure," MGM's spectacular, star-studded Technicolor production to be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The cast is headlined with stars Spencer Tracy, Van Johnson, Leo Genn, Gene Tierney, Barry Jones, Dawn Addams, Rhys Williams, Noel Drayton and Lloyd Bridges.

A DOUBLE FEATURE is booked to open at the State Theater Sunday, and run through Wednesday.

The first is "No Holds Barred," starring the comedy gang, The Bowery Boys, with Marjorie Reynolds.

"Bomba and The Jungle Girl," is the other feature, with Johnny Sheffield as Tarzan, Jr., in the spotlight.

For Christmas Day and Friday and Saturday, the picture "Toughest Man in Arizona," in Technicolor, will be shown, starring Vaughn Monroe with Joan Leslie and Jean Parker.

On the same bill is "The Wac From Walla Walla," with the hilarious Judy Canova.

Dirksen Certain Taft Wants Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he is "quite certain" that Sen. Taft would like to be majority leader of the Senate, thus dispelling lingering doubt that the Ohioan wants the post.

Taft himself has said only he is available for the floor leadership, but Dirksen made plain that he had been in touch with Taft and was expressing more than just personal impression. Dirksen is one of Taft's closest associates.

Famous Santa Editorial To Be Repeated

NEW YORK (AP)—Even that famous Santa Claus editorial couldn't save Virginia from childish disillusionment.

You know about the New York Sun reply to a little girl's letter asking if truly there was a Santa Claus.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," it said in a classic attempt to bridge the make-believe and reality. "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exists."

That was more than a half-century ago, but Virginia, now Mrs. Edward Douglas and a grandmother six times over, remembers that all she could understand then was the assurance in the first line.

"It sustained me for two or three years," she said today. "In spite of the editorial, I had a great feeling of disappointment when I found out the truth. I remember I tried to believe even when I knew Santa wasn't real."

Virginia O'Hanlon, aged 8 in 1897, wanted to be sure. So she wrote a letter to the Sun asking, "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

"He lives, and he lives forever," the editorial said. "A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

The editorial received national acclaim and has been reprinted widely over the years.

Mrs. Edwards will tell its story on a television program this Sunday (ABC, 7 p. m. EST) and on Christmas Eve read the editorial, as she has for seven years, over the CBS radio network.

The old Norse ships had steering oars only on the right side near the stern and the term "starboard" (steerside) is believed to have derived from that fact.

Will Another Christmas Find War Goes On

The tragic international year of 1952 finds men of many nations at war in the bitter cold of divided Korea. It is a war which the Western world did not choose.

Like so many of the savage decisions of our generation, it was thrust upon us by men who believe in force and violence as methods of political action. They are deniers of the fundamental beliefs of Christianity which declare that all men are brothers, to be helped wherever possible, and never to be destroyed or injured by human design.

In the area of personal law, those who believe in practices of brutality, conquest, and destruction are placed behind bars. Somehow, in the transition from individual responsibility to collective action, we have lost sight of this seemingly basic proposition. Those who practise the invasion of other lands by armed force become rulers of nations instead of occupants of cells.

The world is sick of its unending wars. It cries aloud at this Christmas season for "Peace on Earth, Good Will To Men." When will this lesson of humanity penetrate the minds of men? When will all of us, in high places as in low, decide that life is better than death for our children?

Will there be another Christmas in Korea for our boys and the boys of other nations as well? On the answer to this question may depend the future of civilization upon the entire earth. If we do not solve this problem, the atomic era could mean only the end of man's history on our planet.

The Week Before

For many this is the happiest, most exciting week of the year. For some it is only the weary windup of an ordeal that cannot end too soon for them.

At the top of the list of the latter put department store sales forces and postal workers, and after them delivery men, bus drivers and in cities the traffic policemen. Among them aching backs and burning feet are widespread afflictions.

Sure, they're all paid for their work, but they're human and all human beings get tired, especially after a long period of pressure. When fatigued some cannot help reaching the point where a brusque answer comes easier than a smile. This is a week requiring forbearance and understanding for those who have been sore beset.

They have been patient through the long trying days of the pre-Christmas rush, but patience is not inexhaustible. This suggests that the shopping job should be cleaned up promptly and that last-minute demands on mailing and transportation facilities should be avoided.

For the next few days those who work in or near congested mercantile areas will be showing Christmas spirit if they keep their cars at home, leaving available parking space to shoppers and lessening rush-hour congestion on midtown streets.

Consideration for others, an essential element of the good will which marks the season, should be shown in ways that count.

Keep Your Rifle Clean, GI Joe

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (P)—An open letter to GI Joe in Korea:

Dear Joe,
Well, kid, I thought I would fill you in on the news from your Uncle Sugar Able—the old USA. Everybody is excited about the big reunion and reconciliation of Gen. Ike and Gen. Mac. There has been nothing like it since Stanley met Dr. Livingston in darkest Africa.

Gen. Mac is supposed to have bent Gen. Ike's ear with a new plan to get you out of Korea. The Democrats, taking a tip from Harry S. Truman, are saying, "well, what is it?" And the Republicans are saying, "wait and see."

However, nobody has said anything yet about speeding up the rotation system, and if I were you, Joe, I'd go on keeping my feet dry and my rifle clean. No matter what plan the generals make, it's the doughboy who has to carry it out.

Everybody here is off on the annual Christmas gift buying jag. It looks like a record year, and even the dogs on Park Avenue are wearing milk jackets.

"I never saw such prosperity," a friend of mine told me. "Why, there were 40 people ahead of me at the finance company this morning, waiting for the doors to open so they could borrow money to buy Christmas presents."

The way things are, Joe, a fellow can hardly afford not to borrow money. It's the only way you can be sure you still got some credit. And, of course, the Democrats say, "Well, you might as well borrow all you can. When the Republicans get in, there won't be any money or credit either."

The Democrats are still so mad at losing the election it's hard to figure whether they are afraid of a depression under the GOP, or are yearning for one. I guess it is hard on morale to get thrown out of a swivel chair after 20 years.

The government is busy investigating everybody in Washington who can't afford to winter in Florida. The way it seems to work is that they all choose up sides, and say, "you investigate us this week, and we'll investigate you next week."

Another theory is that the Democrats want to get each other all investigated now so that when the Republicans get in power the only ones left for them to investigate will be themselves.

It looks like the new Congress may go on television, and the gossip is they are holding out for a more appropriate sponsor. I hear the only offer so far was made by a chlorophyll deodorant.

But, all in all, Joe, it looks like the country will survive. The only fellow I know who doesn't have a job is your Uncle Jim—the one that swore off working back in 1910 during what the Democrats now refer to as "the first Taft administration."

I had lunch recently with your favorite pinup girl, Marilyn Monroe. She said to tell you she sends her best—and believe me, Joe, that is the best, as far as I could see.

Well, kid, keep close to your bunker over there. The thing we'd like best is to have you with the family around our tree this year. That's the Christmas present the nation wants most now—to have you home again. You aren't forgotten.

Good luck,
Hal Boyle

Averell Harriman's Queer Idea

By George Sokolsky

Averell Harriman once raised an exciting idea in the realm of the impoverishment of our great nation, when he said:

"I don't know of any way that one people can be rich and the rest of the world poor any more than one man in the country can be rich and the rest of the people poor."

This is dictum evades the whole of human history, the developments of civilizations, the varying cultural levels of people's as let us say the natives of the Mariana Islands as compared with the natives of France. It ignores geography, sociology, as well as history.

What seems to bother Harriman is that he believes the United States with only 10 percent of the population of the so-called free world possesses over 50 percent of its wealth and productive capacity. His figures are a little wrong, but I understand what he means.

Averell, only one generation removed from a constructive builder, his father, E. H. Harriman, does not realize that what we have, we have earned. Few in the whole 300 years of Americans on this continent inherited very much. Harriman is an exception; he inherited a mighty lot. But most Americans earned their way by hard work, by building something, by inventing something, by creating something.

Our productivity was not inherited from the Indians nor was much of it imported from Europe or Asia. It was made in America by Americans. Our productivity comes out of the genius of a free people, whose greatest freedom was the right to risk their careers and prospects on their judgment.

Averell Harriman's theory is the application of leveling nations as Socialism levels men down. When men speak of equality of sacrifice, they generally think of a ratio of say 9 to 1, if you look at what we contribute to the United Nations and the Korean War, or about 5 to 1 when it comes to the defense of Europe. We are only 156,000,000 people as compared with about 240,000,000 among the so-called free peoples in Europe; yet we have contributed well over $100,000,000,000 to Europe since 1939 and they have contributed nothing to us. They say: But they lost men in war, but so did we and we are still doing it in Korea and other places.

The exaggerated internationalism and confused sacrificial masochism on the part of men like Harriman, stimulates a reaction in this country against Europe which many Americans have come to regard as a leech upon our economy. They drive so hard against the interests of the United States, that many Americans turn not against these Americans, but against all Europeans. As a matter of fact, a feeling is growing in this country that being pro-British is only less evil than being pro-Russian because we dislike the Russians more than the British dislike us. Common sense might be applied to international relations. We are a nation that has been generous to our friends and even to our foes. We have created a great productive capacity which in two wars and in the periods between wars, we have shared with all the world.

And such generosity will continue as long as we can afford it. Yet, such generosity must not cause us to lose our sense of nationality. Aid for other nations does not involve a subordination of our policies to those of other countries, as we have actually done in Korea.

During the past three decades, every propagandistic device has been employed by all sorts of so-called educational agencies to lessen the belief of our own people in nationalism, in their deep-rooted faith in their own country. Even our children have been taught that America is less to be considered than what they call "the world." Instead of contracts among free countries, we were told to take a global point of view. Yet, nowhere else in the world has nationalism so lost caste as in the United States. The British speak of their Commonwealth with pride and of their Queen in reverence, but our children are being taught of the globe, not of their own country.

Yet internationalism stirs no emotion of pride or satisfaction or even joy. It is a sterile doctrine, negative and without prospect. The opposite to internationalism is not isolation; it is contractual partnership a mong equals for mutual aid and transactions.

Pair Married 17 Years Gets Church Rites

IPSWICH, England (P)—After 17 years of married life, Mrs. Elsie Weedon finally took her husband with her to church for a wedding "in the sight of God."

Other villagers of nearby Winesham were astonished to hear about it today. The original wedding had taken place in a civil registry office.

"The organ played, and I had a nice wedding dress, a bridesmaid and everything," Mrs. Weedon said of her second nuptials when the news leaked out.

They have four daughters—two sets of twins—and did not want to cause gossip about the delayed ceremony, which was held Sunday.

The happy bridegroom, 41-year-old Desmond, couldn't have been more gallant had he been 24. His comment:

"As I waited at the altar and saw my wife advancing up the aisle, I thought she looked just as sweet and charming as she did that other wedding day in 1935."

Diet and Health Arthritis Sufferers Aided By New Drug

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Arthritis, the joint disease that attacks and cripples so many older persons, has been receiving much attention the last few years from research workers. They have made wonderful new discoveries, but many of these have drawbacks. Some treatments which relieve pain and swelling also bring certain complications.

Two newly discovered hormones, ACTH and cortisone, have definitely proved helpful to people suffering from rheumatoid arthritis. This type of arthritis is due to an infection, and brings redness, swelling, and crippling of the joints, usually accompanied by fever.

Undesirable Complications

However, if these drugs are used in the wrong way, for a long time, they may bring on a form of diabetes. They can also cause a person to retain salt within his body, which leads to an excess of fluid in the body, a condition known as edema. These drugs may also cause a rise in blood pressure and mental changes.

To avoid these undesirable complications, doctors have been trying out a newly discovered form of cortisone, known as compound F, or hydrocortisone.

Instead of being taken by mouth or injected into the muscles, this new drug is injected into the space between the bones of the diseased joint. Thus, it acts directly on the joint affected by the arthritis.

This drug is especially valuable when arthritis affects one or a few joints, not many joints. The treatment promptly relieves distress in the particular joint, and some persons are relieved for a long period of time. In others, relief lasts from a few days to several weeks.

Good Improvement

Many patients who do not respond even to heavy doses of ACTH or cortisone injected into a muscle or vein, show good improvement from small injections of hydrocortisone into the joints. Certain cases of osteo or degenerative arthritis are also helped by this form of treatment.

Howard Hughes Boss Of RKO Studios Again

HOLLYWOOD (P)—The unpredictable Howard Hughes is back in the driver's seat at RKO.

The manufacturer of airplanes, oil tools and movies was elected chairman of the board of RKO yesterday, although he recently sold his controlling interest in the studio.

Noah Dietrich, J. Miller Walker, Edward G. Burke Jr., A. D. Simpson and Hughes comprise the board. Hughes succeeds Maurice H. Bent, New York City broker, who bowed out only a week after his election to the board. No reason was given for his withdrawal.

Hughes sold his interest to Ralph Stolk of Chicago and a group of associates several months ago for $7,093,940. Stolk still owes Hughes 5½ million dollars and Burke now is the lone Stolk representative on the board.

Big Family Christmas Party Planned by Armco Employees

Employees of the Armco Drainage and Metal Products Co. plant here today were looking forward with keen anticipation to a Christmas party for them and their families in the Armory Saturday afternoon.

All the planning has been done by the employees themselves and they also will carry out those plans—and they are really elaborate.

About 200 adults and more than 300 youngsters are expected to gather around the big tree and the throne from which Santa Claus is to reign over the festivities.

The party is to start at 1 P. M. and continue with a full program of fun and entertainment in the spirit of the Yuletide.

Highlight of the event, of course, will be the passing out of the presents to the kiddies up to 10 years of age. That is to be the special job for Santa.

only specially wrapped, but they also were selected for each youngster personally. The general committee took a poll among the employees some time ago to find out how many children would be there and, what was equally important, they asked the parents what each one wanted for Christmas.

Armed with that information the gift committee set about finding just the right gift for everyone on the list. It was not such a simple thing either; because of the personal attention given to teach one of the youthful guests, there were 28 members on that committee.

So, Santa, through his 28 helpers, will be able to give the kiddies just what they had asked him for.

While awaiting the big moment the time when Santa takes charge of things around the Christmas tree, there is to be entertainment by a couple of clowns.

Both Santa Claus and the clowns are to be professionals, those who have been specially trained for just such affairs as this. Santa is to come from Dayton and the clowns are to come from Cincinnati.

CHRISTMAS WOULD not be Christmas for the young folks without the customary "treat," so another committee has laid a supply of candy, nuts and everything that is supposed to go into a treat. It has all been divided up and put in colorful bags and will be passed out at the party, too.

Individual identities have been submerged, but there were 52 Armco employees designated to committee to arrange the party. Besides, they have had the help of many more volunteers.

After the presents are given to the youngsters by Santa, everyone

Steel Company Plans Expansion

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Follansbee Steel Corp. plans to build a new 34 million dollar addition adjacent to its present plant at Follansbee, W. Va.

To help finance the project, the company has asked the Reconstruction Finance Corp. for a 29½ million dollar loan.

The present plant employs about 2,100. The expansion program, which will add from 500 to 600 jobs, includes a new river dock, making it possible for Follansbee to receive and ship finished steel by river barge.

young and old, are to join in singing Christmas carols.

The party also will provide an opportunity for the families of the Armco employees to get together and get better acquainted.

So completely have the plans been laid, that one was even delegated to arrange for a special parking place on the west side of South Main Street between the B & O and Pennsylvania Railroads.

You Don't Need To Have An Accident Christmas Eve

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

It's that time of year again—the Merry Yuletide season distinguished by the sound of sleigh bells and ambulance sirens, by stars in the eyes of little children and spots before the eyes of parents.

It's the week before Christmas, when anything can happen, and usually does. But it is possible, believe it or not, to get through the next few days without either serious mishap, family crises or the usual state of complete exhaustion.

A group of assorted experts have come up with a list of suggestions which agree on at least one point—take it easy.

Mrs. Marjorie B. May, director of home safety for the Greater New York Safety Council, advises women, "Don't get so tired you're groggy." She has a number of pointers on toy buying, such as: (A) be sure toys are non-flammable, and that those for toddlers are too big to swallow, have no sharp edges or button eyes or noses on long, murderous pins; (B) Don't overestimate a child's ability, by buying him a bike, for instance, too big for him to ride safely; (C) Don't turn small children loose with chemistry sets.

She warns against the fire hazards of Christmas trees, urging that you buy the tree at the last moment, put it in a firm stand with a water container, use only lights that have been approved by the underwriters and don't set it up in front of a fireplace or radiator.

"The spirit of peace on earth, good will to men, would be improved greatly if shoppers would not try to transport such items as Christmas trees and sleds on crowded buses and streetcars, if riders would have their fares ready, and if the lady of the house would let her husband get off to work before setting out on her shopping rounds."

Company M Cagers Lose to Circleville

Lack of reserve strength could be given at least part of the blame for the 77 to 69 defeat of the Company M cagers by the Company I outfit from Circleville on the Armory floor Thursday night.

The Washington C. H. team pulled up to within 3 points of the Circleville in the last period, but ran out of steam before it could move on into the lead.

With the Company M boys weary, the Circleville turned on the steam with fresh players, and pulled away to a comfortable advantage.

The Company M attack was made all the way with only five players. Company I used seven and all of them had a hand in the scoring.

Roger Grimm set the pace for Company M's offense with 11 field goals and a total of 26 points. He also was the high scorer for the game. Closest to him was Brown of Circleville with 19 points.

Company M's record for the season now stands at two wins and three losses.

Next game for the Washington C. H. outfit will be Sunday at Chillicothe where they are to tangle with the Company L squad.

'Average Fan' Named As New Cleveland Indians President

CLEVELAND (AP)—Myron H. Wilson, an "average fan" with a few shares of baseball stock but no management experience in professional sports, took over today as president of the Cleveland Indians.

Ellis Ryan quit the job under fire Thursday and Wilson's first act as new chief was to strengthen the hand of Hank Greenberg by expressing "utmost confidence" in the general manager.

Wilson, saying he would continue his insurance business, indicated a freer hand for Greenberg by pointing out he would not make the presidency a full-time job.

"I don't know much about picking ball players or even trading them," he added. "That's Hank's department."

Greenberg's differences with Ryan on operational policies had been a factor in the dispute leading to Ryan's departure, although the former home run slugger never took part in the office squabble.

Wilson, who is 65 years old, has never met Tribe field boss Al Lopez and describes himself as just a "little stockholder begging for tickets to come and see a game." He estimates he saw only 12 to 15 tilts yearly.

Although among the anti-Ryan group in the present controversy, Wilson was a friend of Ryan and was in the syndicate fronted by Ryan which bought the club from Bill Veeck three years ago.

New Officers Are Elected

Fayette Grange Has Yule Program

Fayette Grange today has a new secretary-elect and a new lecturer-elect.

They will be installed with other officers at ceremonies to be held early next year.

Mrs. Dean Powell was elected lecturer at Thursday night's meeting to take the place of Mrs. Walter Carmen and Mrs. Doris Diffendal was chosen for the secretary to take the place of Mrs. Robert Bowen.

Mrs. Carmen and Mrs. Bowen, who had been selected for those offices at the regular election meeting previously, submitted their resignations Thursday night. Pressure of other personal affairs was given as the reason. After the resignations were accepted, Mrs. Diffendal and Mrs. Powell were elected to fill the vacancies.

THE THURSDAY NIGHT meeting started with a potluck supper at 6:30 P. M. in Grange Hall on West Elm Street.

Roger Acton, the master, presided over the business session at which three were accepted for membership in Fayette Grange. The degrees are to be conferred in January on Mrs. Geraldine Bolton, Harold Engle and John Boylan.

Loren Hynes, a past secretary of the Ohio State Grange, explained the new procedures which are to be followed in the selection of delegates to the state convention next October.

The Grange voted to send the National Grange Monthly to all officers of Fayette Grange and to renew the subscription to the Record-Herald for Fayette County patients in Mt. Logan Sanatorium at Chillicothe.

Plans also were made for sending Christmas presents to patients in the State Hospital at Columbus. In accordance with that plan, all members were told to bring at least one gift to Mrs. Diffendal, the new secretary-elect, at the auditor's office in the Court House before 4 P. M. Monday.

THE CHRISTMAS theme was carried out in the program arranged by Mrs. Loren Hynes, the outgoing lecturer. It opened with group singing of carols, led by Mrs. Wayne Woodyard.

Mrs. Roger Acton gave a reading on "Yuletide in Norway"; Wayne Woodyard told about Christmas time in Bulgaria; Robert Haines described Christmastime in Holland; Loren Hynes gave a word picture of Christmas in Mexico and Harold Hewitt explained how Christmas is observed in Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. Hynes gave a humorous recitation entitled "Nightmare Before Christmas" and Mrs. Howard Barney read a Christmas poem.

The meeting was brought to a close with everyone joining in singing "Silent Night."

On the supper committee were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carmen, Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gorman.

Unique Party At Pennington On Saturday

If the youngsters don't have a good time at the Christmas party that has been arranged for the employees of the Pennington Brothers Bakery and their families Saturday night, it won't be because just about everything has not been done to provide them one big evening.

The party has been in the making for some time and now everything is just about ready, not only for an elaborate entertainment but also one of the most unique.

Howard Wright, the manager here, said "the party is primarily for the kiddies," but there will be plenty for the adults to have a good time, too.

There is to be a big, brightly decorated tree for the center of activities for the youngsters. And, of course, there will be a Santa Claus—and that's where the unique part of the party comes in.

SANTA IS TO pass out the treats, all done up in big stockings, to the children as he rides through the crowd in his traditional sleigh drawn by two of his traditional reindeer.

The sleigh for Santa has been built on the back of the electrical-operated truck that is used inside the bakery. In front drawing it will be two life-sized reindeer fashioned by days of painstaking work. It all looks very real—so real that only the older youngsters beginning to grow wise and skeptical, would be fooled.

After the treats have been passed out to the kiddies, Santa is to take them for rides in the reindeer-drawn sleigh all over the 36,000 square feet of the big bakery's main floor.

The party is scheduled to start at 8:30 P. M. and the entertainment for the children is expected to go on for an hour.

Then at 9:30 P. M. a buffet supper of sandwiches, baked beans and trimmings, ice cream and cake is to be set out for everyone.

After the lunch, there is to be 50-50 dancing until 12:30 A. M. with Tucker's Orchestra from Wilmington providing the music. Time has been allotted for the parents to take their kiddies home and then come back if they want.

Wright said preparations had been made for about 300 employees and their families. More than 100 youngsters are expected.

Roman roads were often 3 feet or more thick.

Eagle Scout Board Holds Review Here

Four Boy Scouts from Fayette County appeared before the Eagle Scout Board of Review Thursday night at Grace Methodist Church as a possible last step for the highest award in Scouting—the Eagle rank.

The Scouts—Hugh Lentz of Troop 222; Don Brown, Troop 152; George Montgomery, Post 152 and Joe Gardner, Post 303—were each questioned by the board members on whether they should receive the high award. The board also reviewed the advancements each Scout had made to determine what he had learned from Scout work.

On the board were Robert Terhune, chairman, Kenneth Chaney, Dr. C. R. Griffiths, John Lodwick, Robert Poppen, Leo Edwards and Ray French.

The report made by the board here will be sent to Boy Scout headquarters in Columbus for review and then forwarded on to Scout headquarters in New York for review to decide if the boys are to become Eagle Scouts.
